The President Says ...

Can you believe it's August already?! Quilt Plano 2016 is almost here and it's so exciting to see the event come together, with the flurry of activity around show committee preparations, completing those show entry quilts and mini quilts for the auction, and the anticipation of seeing all the wonderful quilts and vendor booths. I'm thrilled to handle the setup and tear down of the show - it lets me see the event from start to finish. It's so fun to help hang the quilt entries – each one like opening a present that contains a beautiful surprise! I love to see quilts that put a new twist on an old favorite, creative new patterns or beautifully executed piecing or quilting, and there's always at least one that I add to my quilt 'bucket list'! I get to see the vendor booths set up, see all the new things they will be offering and scope out which ones I don't want to miss. And I'm always amazed at how quickly the show comes down at the end and how tired I am - but there's also a great sense of satisfaction that all the hard work resulted in a successful show where quilters can share their creations, make new quilting friends, learn old and new techniques, be inspired to try something new, shop and explore the wonderful booths and most of all, enjoy a fun-filled couple of days with other quilters!

Hints for Reading the Newsletter

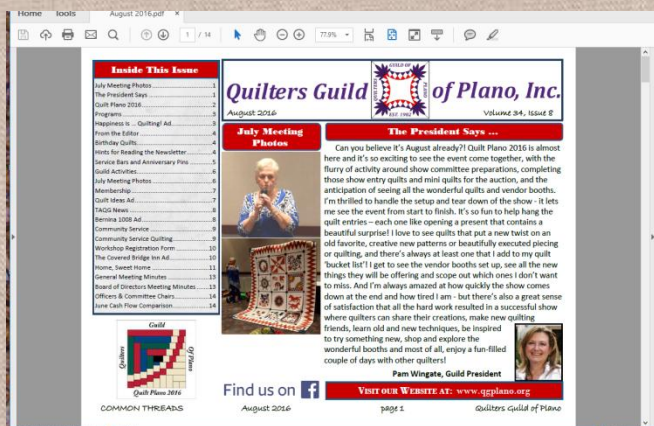

submitted by John Worley

The newsletter opens in the Adobe Reader. The Zoom factor will probably be 100%. The newsletter will extend off the screen. There are 2 ways to resize the document for easy reading.

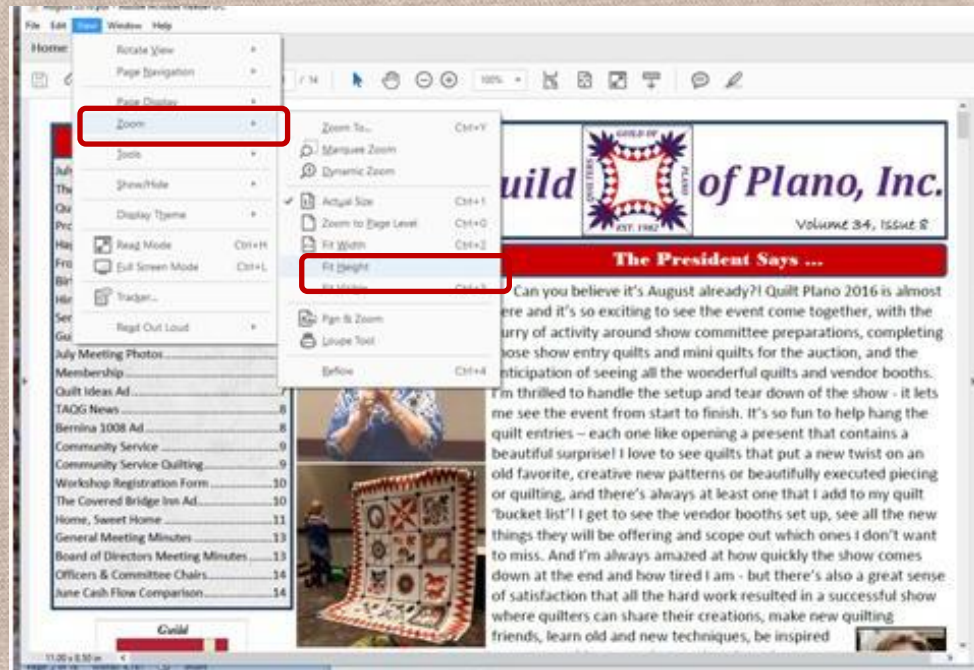

Method 1:

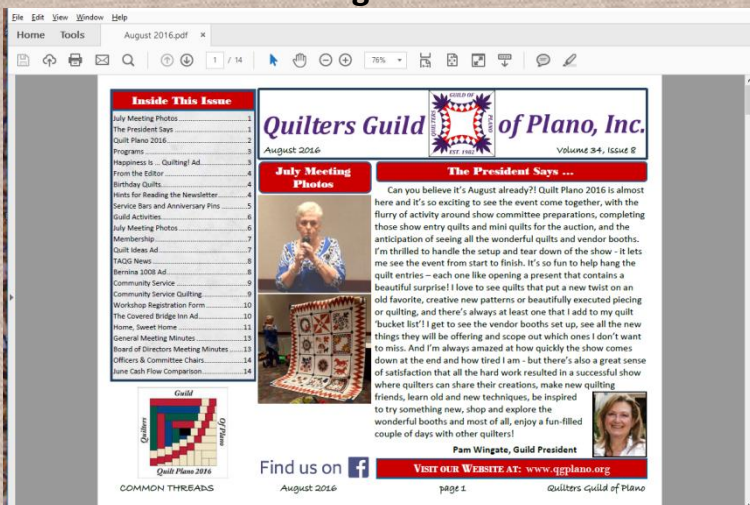

The first method requires that you have set Adobe View menu to Show/Hide the Tool Pane. Just click on the <-> (minus) icon to resize it.

Method 2:

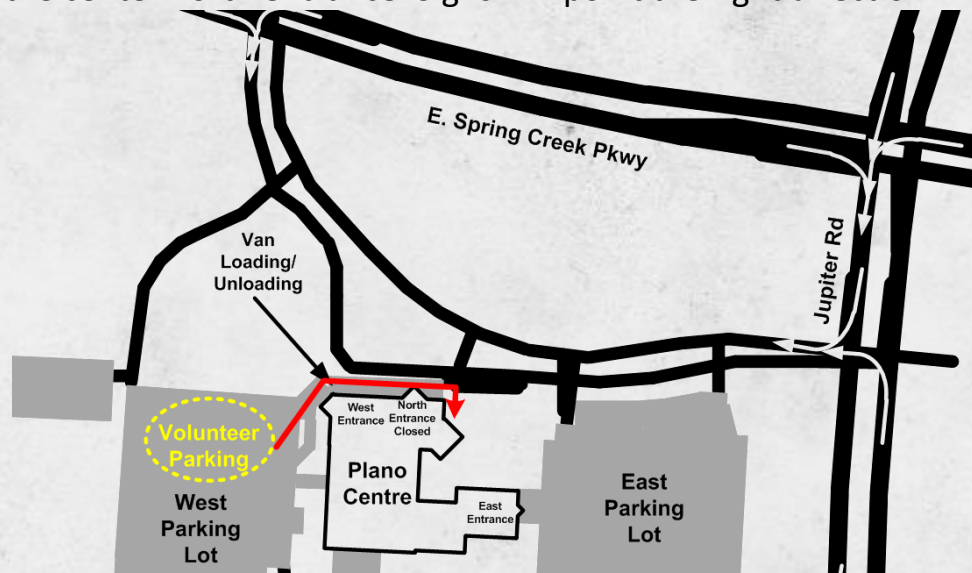

The second method requires that you use the Adobe View menu to Zoom to Fit Height.

Quilt Plano 2016

This will be my last pre-show article. Everything is in place to have a great Quilt Plano 2016, but there is still a lot to do before the doors open on August 12th!

For those of you at our July meeting, you heard that we are changing how our volunteers enter the show. We are asking that all our volunteers park on the west side of Plano Centre. Instead of entering the west entrance, please go in front of the building (there is a covered walkway), continue past the north entrance and turn right into the center's courtyard. You then can enter into the east door of the Hospitality Room. If you have someone driving you to the center, there is a drop-off area at the center north entrance. Signs will point the right direction.

When you enter the Hospitality Room, you can check your carry-ins, sign-in and be ready to work. If there is anyone that has not already signed up for a specific area, there will be a dry-erase board located in that area with a list of needed tasks.

PLEASE NOTE THIS DOES NOT APPLY TO QUILT TURN-IN ON TUESDAY, AUG. 9TH. As in previous years, both volunteers and individuals dropping off their quilts, will park and enter on the east side of the Centre. Tables will be set up at that entrance so you have easy access for drop off.

For those of you who are interested in having your quilts appraised during the show, Valerie Salter will be there to help you through that process.

There is one more change that we are going to try this year regarding our "Member's Choice" award. In the past we have voted and awarded that ribbon on Preview Night (Thursday), however attendance at Preview Night doesn't necessarily represent the entire guild. All members attending Preview Night will still have an opportunity to vote on their favorite quilt, however we will not close the voting until noon on Saturday. All member volunteers entering on both Friday and Saturday will be able to pick-up a Member's Choice ballot and turn them in before they leave. PLEASE, ONE VOTE PER MEMBER ONLY! As everything this will be done on an honor basis.

Here is a to-do list for every member:

1. Raffle Quilt: turn in your ticket stubs and payments for tickets you picked up at previous meetings. You still have time to purchase tickets at the show – drawing will be held at the Plano Centre at 3:30 on Saturday.
2. If you have signed up to work at the show, please make sure you arrive on time and wear your show shirt if you have one.
3. If you have forgotten what time you signed up to work, the entire volunteer sign-up sheet will be posted on our website.
4. Make sure you bring your purchased lunch tickets – remember there are no returns or exchanges on Show Days.
5. HAVE FUN! YOUR SMILE IS THE BEST FORM OF PROMOTING OUR SHOW!

As this year's show chair, I want to thank you all for your support!

Programs

submitted by Peggy Burrell

Our September Speaker is Ginny Eckley. Ginny belongs to Houston Area Fiber Artists and Mixed Media Artists. She has a BFA from the University of Houston, TX and has continued with classes and obtained an Associate Degree in Graphic Design. Ginny is proficient in Photoshop and Illustrator, and has attended numerous printing and textile workshops with renown teachers in the Fiber Arts field.

On Thursday, September 8, she will present a lecture to the Guild on "Creative Genius".

On Friday September 9, she will teach a workshop on "Silk-Screening the Easy Way" as described on her website: "I love painting, but found a great way to transfer imagery that is amazing. Frameless screens made of nylon that makes the process fast and fun. Simply tape, brush on color and dry! We'll screen both on silks, cottons, prints and solids. I will demo how to make your own screens".

On Saturday, September, 10 she will teach "Color Your Stash" as described on her website: "Always wanted to try fabric painting? Brush paint over white, colored and printed fabrics, layering colors. Add images using silk-screens. Fast and fun, learn how to transform fabrics easily. Bring your silks, and we'll dye them. I'll also have a new discharge called Decolorant, that is safe for silks and cottons! You won't recognize your outdated collection!

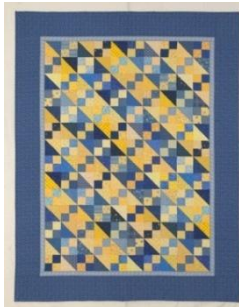

Sign up for classes. Programs will be offering sign-ups at the quilt show.

From the Editor

submitted by John Worley

I have taken over the duties of Editor for the Common Threads newsletter with this August issue. By now you have noticed that I am trying out a few new things on you and I hope that you like the changes. (Let me know your opinion, particularly if you don't like something or have suggestions. It's our newsletter, not my newsletter!)

The first thing you noticed is that it is formatted in horizontal (landscape) format rather than vertical (portrait) format as before. That is so the newsletter will fit better on a PC or laptop monitor to make it easier to read without all that scrolling up and down. You also noticed that a larger font is being used. That is also to make it easier to read on a monitor. (I hope these changes also help make the newsletter easier to read on a tablet or smart phone.)

We have added some photos from the last meeting. (Thanks to the Guild Historian for providing the photos to the Editor. 😊) In addition, the entries in the Inside This Issue column are linked to the appropriate articles so that you can use <Mouse Click> to rapidly go to the appropriate page. And all web links are set so that <Ctrl + Click> will open the link in your web browser.

Birthday Quilts

Birthday quilts may be turned in at any time of the year. They do not need to be turned in during your birthday month. Please get them to Sherry Worley at any meeting,

Annual Retreat:

Plans are made and we have a waiting list for our annual retreat in February 2017. You may make payments toward your amount due or wait to pay it all in January 2017—the month before we go to Denison and enjoy being together. Payments and information on retreat are listed on the web site. If you have questions, please notify me and I'll get back to you promptly.

Day Retreat:

Our next day retreat will be Monday thru Wednesday, November 7, 8 & 9, 2016. I'm not yet taking reservations.

Community Service Quilts:

Monica Hendewerk and the Best Fabric Friends sewing group has planned a day of quilting community service quilt tops on Tuesday, Sept 20, 2016. (See page 9.)

My Last Guild Activity Challenge:

As my term of office draws to an end, I want to do one last challenge. Let's do a "Mug Rug" challenge. We have three categories—hot beverage, cold beverage or adult beverage. You may enter in all three categories, but only one time per category. At the September meeting, bring your mug rug in a gift bag (could be brown paper bag) along with a cup, glass or drink mix or whatever you find...keep the cost at or below $20. You will receive a number when you deliver your bag and at the end of the meeting and program, we will draw numbers. You then pick out a bag for each category you entered. Since we have to be out of the building by 9 pm, we will not do exchanges.

It's just a fun way to use your stash. No rules, except it needs to be around 6" x 12" finished, give or take a bit. Any design, any method, any result. Let's see how creative we can be.

Thank you for a great year. I hope you have enjoyed the challenges that Linda and I have posted.

Community Service

submitted by LaDawn Dalley

As always, thank you for the many finished quilts and tops you turned in at the July meeting. I will be delivering them sometime after the show in August. And keep up the good work with the little cuddle quilts. Aggie delivered 88 last month!

We are making headway with the stocking project! There were a lot turned in and even more kits taken! These little projects are so easy to complete. They are also great as an introduction to sewing. I have found that even young teens have no problem sewing these. Just remind them to go slowly around the curves.

See you at the show!

Community Service Quilting

submitted by Monica Hendewerk

Come One, Come All.....Community Service – Quilt for Others
Tuesday, September 20th, 9 am – 5 pm

There are two Community Sew groups that, together, generate over 20 completed quilt tops a month. We now have over 350 quilt tops that need to be made into finished quilts. The BFFs (Best Fabric Friends) small group has organized a day to help whittle that number down by a significant amount. AND WE NEED YOUR HELP.

We are looking for volunteers for the following activities:

(1) Quilting: Sew quilt sandwiches (the top, batting, and backing will already be basted, sewers just need to sew!). Use your walking foot or free motion foot. All of the quilts are crib-size to child lap-size. Nothing larger. Very easy to quilt on a domestic home machine.

(2) Spray Basting: Backing and batting will be cut and matched to quilt tops ahead of time. Basters will work INSIDE with non-toxic spray. If you've never "Spray Spritzed" a quilt or want to learn a new wonderful, inexpensive way to do it, now's your chance!

(3) Other: Pick where you'd like to help – "I'll do anything", ironing, trimming to prepare for binding, binding, help with set-up (8 a.m. – 9 a.m.) or clean-up (5 p.m. – 6 p.m.)

Please RSVP to Jeanne Vogel at pickincotton26@verizon.net or (214) 356-3816 with the hours you'll attend and the activities you'd prefer to participate in.

Logistics

- Location: Dallas Games Marathon, 930 Parker Rd, #530, Plano, TX (SE corner of Alma and Parker DIRECTLY BEHIND the Donut Shop)
- 9 a.m. – 5 p.m. (setup 8-9, cleanup 5-6)
- Bring your own lunch and drinks. There are 2 refrigerators.
- Bring your sewing machine, walking foot or quilting/darning foot, spools of thread (white, black, pastels, red, green, blue), extra bobbins for changing colors, rotary cutter, usual sewing supplies. If you have them, an extension table, Supreme Slider, quilting gloves.
- Consider bringing a light sweater or jacket, and a seat cushion or your own chair.
- There will be door prizes – get a ticket when you arrive and one for every hour you're there
- Contribute community service hours to the guild (we'll help you enter your hours that day!)

Home, Sweet Home

Memories by John Worley

The other night, I went to do a few chores. After picking some green beans, squash, zucchini, and pulling a few potatoes for supper, I check on the peppers, tomatoes, cantaloupe, and blackberries. I harvest some oregano and rosemary, as Sherry instructed. It's getting late; I tell the bees to fly home, but they don't listen.

I take some seed to the birdfeeder. Where have the blue jays gone? They haven't been around lately.

The wild rabbits don't even hop away anymore. (Did I say wild?)

I go to the carport to feed the butterflies. (What do I feed butterflies? Purina Butterfly Chow? No.) In addition to lots of native perennials and lantana and catnip, they seem to like banana peel. I like my butterflies. They must like me; they swarm over me and about a dozen land on my chest and arms. (Maybe it's the butterfly chow?)

I decide to walk down the hill to the back of my property to check on the beaver pond. I wonder if the dam is still holding up. On my way back, a killdeer flutters along the ground to my left, trying to distract me. I must be near her young. "Over here, look at me", she cries. "My wing is broken. Over here, over here, take me!", and off she flies.

I smile as I remember when a killdeer family got stuck crossing the street near my office. The kids were too small to get over the median and mom and dad were trying to protect them from cars. Even if they could get around the median at the intersection, they still wouldn't be able to get up the curb on the far side

When I got out of my car, mom and dad flew to the far side of the street and rolled around on the grass like they had a broken wing.

I must have been a sight: A short, balding, overweight nerd in a tie with a towel in his hands, chasing baby killdeer down the street. One by one I caught the babies and carried them to the far curb. Mom and dad rounded up their youngsters as I put them up on the curb. Off through the grass they wandered, off toward the creek.

They're so cute when they're that small!

It's getting dark. The great blue heron leaves the pond to fly home to roost; it's too late for fishing anyway. All looks good at the pond, but I don't see any wildlife. Maybe they are asleep already. Thrash, thrash, rumble, rumble; an armadillo runs by. Gosh, they are so noisy in the brush.

As I walk back up to the house, a flock of starlings fly over on the way to roost about a mile north, in the old abandoned peach orchard. It is so quiet that you can hear the rush of air off their wings as they fly over.

As I reach the patio, I look back west at the sunset – another work of art. Sherry tells me to start the grille. As I sit on the patio and watch the sunset, she hands me a platter of stuff to cook.

As I relax on the patio, I become transfixed as the last shades of pink change to purple and then fade to black. Sherry calls, “You’re not letting that burn, are you?” I snap awake. “Who, me? Uh-h-h, no. Everything’s fine.” (That was close!) I finish grilling supper and take it inside.

The barn swallow family living on my patio is upset with me anyway. They want me to leave so they can go to sleep. To their disappointment, I turn the patio light on for a while. I do this now and then for the spiders. Insects are attracted to the light and the giant orb weaver spiders have a feast.

The only part of tonight’s supper that I didn’t grow is the beef. And it was Angus, raised on my father-in-law’s place. (Ol’ #93. Boy has he been a good one!) After supper I put on Maynard Ferguson and Clifford Brown CDs while I finish reading Rocket Boys and Sherry works on another quilt.

Finally to bed, but first I must feed the dog and cat. (They raise such a fuss when I forget!) Good night all.

Home, Sweet Home!

submitted by Pam Carroll

The meeting was called to order at 6:45PM by the president, Pam Wingate. There were no corrections to the minutes, and they were approved as written. There were no corrections to the treasurer's report, and it was approved.

Pam Wingate announced our new slate of officers for 2016-17 is as follows:

She announced that the Members' Choice Award will be announced Saturday afternoon. Members who are working the show should park in the west parking lot and enter directly into the Hospitality Room. Rose will need the 2018 Show Chairperson to shadow her at the 2017 show. She asked for someone to volunteer.
